Memo no: HFW-18099/29/2023-CMS(DHS)(HFW)-Dept. of H&FW/ 165

Date: 11/05/23.

Memorandum

It is now an established fact that emergence of antimicrobial resistance (AMR) is a big challenge to the management of infectious diseases. So, activities to contain the emergence of AMR is already been initiated from the Department of Health & Family Welfare. Two state level committees on AMR, namely i) State Level Expert Committee for AMR containment & ii) State AMR monitoring and surveillance Cell are already formed by the H&FW Dept to carry out the whole activities on the issue. Dy Director of Health Services (PH) has been designated as State level Nodal Officer to co-ordinate the whole activity at state level.

Now, after careful consideration of all the facts, the Dy CMOH1 is hereby designated as District level Nodal Officer to co-ordinate the activities related to containment of emergence of AMR (Anti Microbial Resistance) in the concerned District & Health Districts in addition to his/her normal duties.

This will act with immediate effect.

This is done in the interest of public service
